K Announces Russia Has Global Rocket

Says Device Can Circle Earth From Any Direction

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev claimed Friday the Soviet Union has created a new global rocket which is invulnerable to antimissile weapons and can attack the United States from any direction.

The new rocket, he said, outdates the United States' elaborate radar and warning systems intended to protect it from missiles aimed over the North Pole.

He also announced the launching of a new Sputnik. The official news agency, Tass, indicated it was an unmanned vehicle.

The two announcements were made before several thousand people who came to cheer Khrushchev in his unopposed election campaign in a Moscow district for the Supreme Soviet. The election is Sunday.

Will Never Agree

"We will never agree" to the international inspection system proposed by the United States at the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva, he said.

The Soviet Union will carry out a new series of nuclear tests, he said, if President Kennedy goes on with his plan to conduct atmospheric tests in the mid-Pacific in late April.

The Soviet government is not sticking to any fatal deadlines for solution of the Berlin problem, and will spare no time or efforts to persuade the West to accept its solution, but such a solution cannot be endlessly delayed, he said.

Khrushchev gave no details of the stage of development of the global rocket, which he called a new weapon.

He made the announcement in connection with his views on disarmament, declaring Americans no longer are immune from the consequences of war and it would take "a lunatic to trigger off war against" Communist countries.

Have Global Rockets

"Our scientists and engineers have created a new intercontinental rocket which they call global," he said. "This rocket is invulnerable to antimissile weapons."

He said the United States had erected a system of radar detection and warning against missiles across the North Pole, but the new global rockets can fly around the world in any direction and strike a blow at any set target.

"As the people say, 'You expect him through the door and he comes through the window.'"

American U2 spy planes had flown over the area from which it was believed Russia would launch rockets over the North Pole in order to calculate a defense, Khrushchev said. He went on:

From Any Direction

"But now, even if we admit they were right in their calculations, these American militarists, we can shoot from those positions not only towards the North Pole but in the opposite direction."

Khrushchev said the precision of calculations was established by the flights of Vostok 1 and Vostok 2, the two manned Soviet space ships which orbited the earth.

His description might indicate that the Soviets have militarized this type of space ship, which in circling the earth crosses over the United States from almost all directions and which can be brought down by signals.

Khrushchev's announcement of the new Sputnik came as casually as if he were saying it was time for lunch.

A scientist, Alexander Yushinsky, was speaking and had just said "We are launching cosmic rockets" when Khrushchev interrupted.

"One was launched today at 3 o'clock and it is already in orbit," he did not say whether he meant morning or afternoon, or whether it was manned or unmanned.

Tass indicated the space ship was unmanned by saying the satellite carries scientific instruments. (Continued on page 2, col. 2.)

Electricity Pins Woman In Bathtub 40 Minutes

Moments Of Terror

Mrs. Wayne Simpson of Peshastin, Wash., spent 40 terror-filled minutes in an electrically-charged bathtub, when the sunlamp she is holding tumbled into the tub. Mrs. Simpson suffered only a few burns, amazing doctors who agreed with her that "I should be dead." She was rescued by her husband who turned off the power in their farm home when he returned from a nearby city. (AP Photofax)

Doctors Say Survival Is Real Miracle

PESHASTIN, Wash. (AP) — A Peshastin housewife, Mrs. Wayne Simpson, survived 40 fear-filled minutes in an electrically charged bathtub.

Amazed doctors concurred in her assessment: "Why I'm not dead I'll never know."

Mrs. Simpson was alone Tuesday in her farm home and decided to take a quick bath. An aluminum sun lamp clamped to the wall above her head fell into the water.

The electrical charge stiffened Mrs. Simpson immediately, throwing her legs erect against the wall. She lay that way until her husband returned home 40 minutes later, discovered her plight and turned off the power.

Mrs. Simpson explained later they had fastened the lamp to the wall because she likes to sunbathe while bathing.

"I reached down and pulled out the plug so the water could drain out," she said, "then the clamps let loose and the lamp fell into the water with me—a tub full of water. All heck broke loose. I just stiffened. I was sitting there one minute and the next minute my feet were against the wall."

"It just froze me solid. I could not move a finger. I can remember even my eyes were stiff. I couldn't get my eyes open. I was just lying there stiff as a board. The power was just surging through me. I could just feel the electricity going through me. I was quivering with power going through me."

Mrs. Simpson said as the water drained it seemed to grab her "instead of being steady." But when the tub emptied, she relaxed.

"The electricity was still in me, but I wasn't rigid anymore. "As I lay there I just kept wishing someone would come. I thought, 'Wayne, hurry up and come home! I was just praying to live. I was just praying for someone to turn off the juice.'"

"The sunlamp was under my body. It kept making this crackling sound. Every time I moved a little it would grab me again. I knew I had to lie perfectly still. I could feel it burning."

Mrs. Simpson said she has burned spots under her arm and was cut by broken glass.

"I just laid there until Wayne came home. Then I yelled. I said 'Don't touch me. I'm being electrocuted. Go on down and turn off the power.'"

Mrs. Simpson estimated she was in the tub for 40 minutes during which time she never lost consciousness or panicked.

They kept her overnight in a hospital and, "Doctors just shook their heads. I shouldn't be here, they said."

Army Seizes Guatemala City

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI) — The army Friday seized control of this capital city to halt anti-government rioting in which 14 persons have been killed and others injured in the past 72 hours.

The army seizure of civilian powers was ordered by President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes in the midst of widespread pillaging and street disorders. The government blamed the outbreaks on "Castro-Communist subversion."

Big U.S. Titan War Rocket Passes Maiden Test Flight

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — America's mightiest war rocket, the blockbuster Titan 2, successfully flew more than 5,000 miles on its maiden test flight Friday and bolstered this nation's military and space potential.

The missile was powered by revolutionary new liquid propellants which emitted a rose-colored glow of hot gases instead of the tail of bright flame familiar to most rockets.

The towering 103-foot vehicle was topped by the largest warhead ever carried by a U.S. rocket. The three-ton nose cone was packed with flight-recording instruments in place of the nuclear charge which would be flown in combat.

Speed 15,000 MPH

With the engines of its two stages pouring out more than half a million pounds of thrust, the 150-ton Air Force projectile blasted away from the Cape and streaked unerringly to a bullseye in the South Atlantic Ocean at a speed of more than 15,000 miles an hour.

Initial concentration will be on developing Titan 2 as a quick-striking, ocean-spanning weapon capable of delivering nuclear warheads more than halfway around the world.

Once perfected for military purposes, probably in about a year, Titan 2 is slated as a booster for several space assignments, including the two-man Gemini space capsule in 1963-64 and the Dyna-Soar manned bomber in 1964-65.

Pilot For Space Missions

Several unmanned space missions also are planned for the rocket.

Titan 2 is the most powerful intercontinental-range missile planned by the Defense Department. It is capable of carrying a nuclear payload with almost twice the punch of the earlier Atlas and Titan 1 ICBMs.

Unofficial estimates place Titan 2's warhead capability at up to 10 megatons, equal to the explosive force of 10 million tons of TNT, or 500 times the fury of the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima in World War II.

Major Features

Major features of the new weapon include: —The new fuels which combine the raw power of liquid-fuel engines and the quick start of solid-fuel motors.

—The propellants are designed for storage in the rocket tanks for up to 18 months as it sits in an underground silo protected from all but a direct nuclear blast. Titan 2 can be fired directly from the bottom of the tube, while Titan 1 and Atlas must be fired from the surface, making them more vulnerable prey for enemy bombs.

—The storable fuels will permit Titan 2 to be fired within one minute after an alarm is sounded. The earlier liquid-fuel ICBMs require a minimum of 15 minutes reaction time. Minuteman, with solid fuel, can be fired almost instantly but has a smaller warhead.

The Air Force and Martin Co., the prime contractor, expect to have Titan 2 operational in the spring of 1963. A total of six squadrons, each with nine missiles, is planned at three bases—near Tucson, Ariz., Little Rock, Ark., and Wichita, Kan.

Two other brotherhoods, the Locomotive Engineers and the Firemen and Engineemen, already have authorized strike votes to strengthen their negotiators when the bargaining starts in Cleveland, Ohio, probably on April 2.

The BRT represents about 100,000 of the 210,000 employees directly involved.

Task Force Doubled In Wide Search

107 Feared Lost In Plane Enroute To Viet Nam

CLARK AFB, Philippines, Saturday (UPI) — The United States doubled the size of its sea and air search armada today but hope was running out for 107 persons aboard a chartered airliner that vanished without a trace in the placid waters of the Western Pacific.

Nine radar-equipped ships and 40 planes searched a 150,000-square-mile area between Guam and the Philippines but no wreckage or life rafts were sighted and belief increased the Super-Constellation crashed and sank with its load of 93 American soldiers bound for embattled Viet Nam.

The stricken Flying Tiger Constellation also was carrying three Vietnamese soldiers and a crew of 11 including four women, when it disappeared more than 24 hours ago and presumably crashed into the sea in bright clear weather.

A spokesman for the Flying Tiger Airlines headquarters in Burbank, Calif., said airline and federal authorities would make a joint investigation of possible sabotage. He said there was no evidence of sabotage yet but noted another Flying Tiger Constellation which crashed in Alaska on Thursday also took off from Travis AFB, Calif., and that both planes were headed for the Orient. The Alaskan crash killed one man.

UPI correspondent Verne Miller reported from Agaña, Guam, that the weather was ideal for the search mission with the sea running in gentle three to five foot swells and only light scattered rains throughout the 150,000 square mile search area.

The search was concentrated on an area 300 to 350 miles west of Guam with planes from the bases there covering a distance 750 miles at sea and another rescue force from Clark Field covering the distance from there to Luxon.

The Super Constellation took off from Guam at 10:56 p.m. (7:56 a.m. EST Thursday) for Clark Field and radioed its position an hour and 22 minutes later when it was 300 miles west of Guam and 1,200 miles from the Philippines. Its fuel supply ran out at 8:22 a.m. Friday (5:22 p.m. EST Thursday).

The search began at daybreak when the joint rescue coordination center on Guam was alerted that the plane was overdue. The first search plane took off at 6:35 a.m. and more were added to the search until 20 were involved. Today the search fleet was doubled.

Air Force sources said visibility was excellent over an area brushed by winds of only about 15 knots. But there was no trace of the plane — wreckage, oil slicks, life rafts or other flotsam.

Disappearance of a Flying Tiger Super-Constellation over the Pacific with 107 persons aboard may join the list of mysteries of the sea, its cause never known.

A Civil Aeronautics Board spokesman said solution of accidents over water was difficult because recovery of wreckage often is impossible. The CAB has established a probable cause in 96 per cent of the accidents it has investigated since 1936.

Most of the unsolved accidents involved crashes in the water. The CAB can't even appoint a full investigating team in the Flying Tiger disappearance unless or until wreckage is found. For instance, investigators to study the engines or structure can't be named if these parts are not found. There is nothing to investigate.

However, the CAB on the West Coast and in Hawaii already has started checking the maintenance and operating records of the Super-Constellation, which carried 93 U.S. troops bound for Viet Nam.

The Flying Tiger disappearance may join these mystery planes whose crashes never have been solved.

—A Northwest DC4 which crashed in Lake Michigan June 24, 1950, killing 58 persons. Only a few shredded seat cushions were found. Thunderstorm turbulence was suspected but never proved.

Barbara Stanwyck Leaves Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Barbara Stanwyck, 54, was permitted to return to her home Friday from Cedars of Lebanon Hospital where she underwent minor surgery Wednesday.

Nature of the surgery was not disclosed by a hospital spokesman said the actress was "recovering very well."

Geneva Nuclear Test Negotiations Making Little Progress

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union late in April unless the Soviet government has agreed to an international ban on nuclear tests, the next move, American sources said, is up to the Soviet Union.

The Soviet-American sparring was at the edge of the 17-nation disarmament conference. Soviet Ambassador Semyon Tsarapkin again rejected U.S. demands for an international inspection system.

Time was ticking away on the problem. The United States has announced it will fire a series of atmospheric tests in mid-Pacific. East and West began openly wooing the nations of the central group in the conference—dubbed the eight middle men. These are Brazil, Burma, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Nigeria, Sweden and the U.S.

The middle men began, careful moves of their own to the United States and the Soviet Union negotiating.

India's defense minister, V. K. Krishna Menon, asked for a joint appeal to the United States and the Soviet Union to defer plans for fresh nuclear weapon tests—at least for the duration of the Geneva talks?

Canadian Foreign Minister Howard C. Green was working hard to keep a Western foot in the central camp. Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki was performing the same for the Communist side. Green and Rapacki have been in contact with each other.

Rusk met separately with Menon and Rapacki.

"We also talked some about the Rapacki plan," Rusk told a newsman.

The plan calls for the establishment of an atom-free zone in central Europe. From the Western point of view it has several objectionable features, including the upset it would cause in Western defense arrangements and West German ties with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The American disarmament plan calls for staged disarmament with a 30 per cent cutback in conventional weapons and in nuclear bomb carriers such as rockets over a three-year period.

Tsarapkin contended a test ban treaty could be enforced by existing national detection systems.

Elkins Cites Huge Growth Of University

BALTIMORE (AP) — Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, cited figures Friday to show that research at the university has been growing by leaps and bounds.

Dr. Elkins told a meeting of the Board of Regents that university funds for research have almost tripled in eight years, rising from $2,453,252 to $7,201,186 between 1953 and 1961.

Individual areas of research increased even more. Funds for medical research increased almost five times, from $468,451 to $2,234,855, and for research in physics almost 14 times, from $62,116 to $837,787.

"Research is essential to the improvement of education and is the modern university's most tangible link with the forward progress of society," Elkins said.

The Board of Regents also approved a minor revision in plans for a $1,731,000 women's dormitory on the College Park campus. The eight-story structure to be known as Denton Hall will accommodate 514 students. It is one of three to be built on a site near Byrd Stadium.

tation, a radio telemetric system and transmitters.

A series of artificial earth satellites will be launched from different cosmodromes of the Soviet Union in the course of 1962, the agency added.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union would spare no effort to make the Geneva disarmament conference a success but declared the system of controls proposed by the United States would be nothing but an espionage service.

He contended a national inspection system—each country reporting on the level of armaments without outside interference—was sufficient because scientific instruments can detect nuclear tests anywhere in the world. The West is not telling the truth, he declared, when it insists present devices will not detect all explosions.

On the German problem, he declared the Soviet Union's aim still is a German peace treaty as a basis for creation of West Berlin as a demilitarized city.

Western agreement to such a treaty—perpetuating the division of Germany—he said, would restore the spirit of cooperation between the Soviet Union and the West.

"We can't delay endlessly the solution of this important task," he warned. "It must be solved and it will be solved."

On Southeast Asia, Khrushchev denounced American military support of South Viet Nam, and said it was helping troublemakers in Laos. United States efforts in these countries, he asserted, would fail.

There is no justification for the United States policy against Cuba, he declared, and the Soviet Union will continue full support to this struggle of the Cuban people.

In an apparent reference to Red China, he said there are people who deliberately distort Soviet policy on disarmament by claiming calls for disarmament are harmful to the people who are fighting for their liberation from colonial oppression.

Khrushchev said he believed people could get rid of the fetters of colonialism only in struggle, including armed struggle. The Soviet Union, he said, would give substantial assistance, including assistance by arms, to such people.

—A Trans-Ocean DC6B which disappeared over the Pacific July 12, 1953, with 58 aboard. It never was found. Turbulence again was the chief suspect but it could not be established definitely.

—A Pan-American Stratocruiser which vanished on a San Francisco-Honolulu flight Nov. 8, 1957, with 44 aboard. Enough wreckage and bodies were recovered for the CAB to eliminate in-flight fire, sabotage and weather as factors. But no specific cause was determined.

—A National Airlines DC7B which crashed in the Gulf of Mexico Nov. 16, 1959, killing all 42 aboard. The plane was believed to have been the victim of sabotage. But the wreckage was never located.

—A Dutch KLM Super-Constellation which disappeared off Ireland Aug. 14, 1958, with 99 aboard. No trace ever was found.

Perhaps the most intriguing disappearance at sea involved famed female aviator Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan. They were lost somewhere over the Pacific July 2, 1937, on a round-the-world flight.

A number of theories have been advanced about their fate — including the idea they were killed by the Japanese — but none has been proved and no trace of the fliers or their plane has been found.

Sen. Oren E. Long, Hawaii, Protests Treatment Of A Constituent In Md. Tavern

By The Associated Press

Sen. Oren E. Long, D-Hawaii, says one of his constituents, an American of Hawaiian-Chinese descent, was refused service in a Maryland tavern earlier this month because of her race.

Sen. Long wrote Gov. Tawes that the incident happened to Mrs. Robert W. McKee at the tavern in Pikesville March 8.

This was one day before the Maryland General Assembly considered but rejected a bill to require equal accommodations for Negroes in Maryland hotels and restaurants. The bill would not have applied to taverns or cocktail lounges.

Mrs. McKee, whose husband was with her in the tavern, telephoned Long about the incident. In the letter he wrote after hearing from her, the Hawaiian senator said:

"The waitress refused to serve them and turned her back on Mrs. McKee without explanation. When Mrs. McKee asked to talk to the owner, she was told that he was not in the building. A man whom she described as the 'bouncer' ordered her to leave."

"I have followed with interest the efforts which you and other responsible leaders in Maryland have made to handle problems of this nature. It has occurred to me that calling your attention to this unfortunate experience of a visitor from another state might be of value to you in promoting your program."

Mrs. Louise Trager, barmaid at the tavern, said in confirming the incident that it "probably will happen again" because it was the bar's policy not to serve Negroes. "Had I known she was Hawaiian, I certainly would have served her," Mrs. Trager said Friday.

Should Not Happen

Sen. Long, commenting Friday, said: "When an American citizen travels through a state, things like this should not happen."

Gov. Tawes expressed his regret to Sen. Long and said he was forwarding the report to the Maryland Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations for "whatever steps are indicated."

The executive secretary of the commission, Douglas B. Sands, said he would write the tavern owner for an explanation but this is about all he can do because "the decision of the legislature is pretty much of a mandate for them to continue as they are doing."

To Picket White House

In Washington, the Student Non Violent Coordinating Committee announced 400 to 500 students from along the Eastern Seaboard would picket the Justice Department and the White House Saturday.

William Mahoney, field secretary for the integrationist organization which calls itself SNICK said the protest is to dramatize its demands for federal action to obtain release of six integrationists jailed in Baton Rouge, La., on charges of criminal anarchy.

An estimated 50 members of SNICK and affiliated organizations were to assemble at a Baltimore church Friday night, then leave at midnight to walk to Washington and take part in the demonstration.

Tax Men Stage Gambling Raids In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—Eight persons were arrested Friday during simultaneous raids by the Internal Revenue Service on gambling operations in Maryland and Washington, D.C.

A spokesman for the Intelligence Division of the IRS office in Baltimore said the raids were part of a coordinated nationwide effort. Arrested and charged with failure to obtain $50 gambling stamps were Charles Speiss, Walter Riscoe, Margaret Bookman, all of Washington; Julius Harrison Finkle, 73, Annapolis; Joey Mopps, Washington; George Byron, Mount Rainier, Md.; William P. Herz, 48, Baltimore, and Lee Hager Backus, 42, Randallstown, Md.

Another man, Norman Pledger of Stoney Creek, Anne Arundel County, was charged with failure to obtain a $250 tax stamp for an amusement machine. Pledger, identified by the IRS as a pool room operator, was not arrested.

Speiss, Riscoe and the Bookman woman, arrested in an apartment in Washington, were to appear before the U.S. commissioner for the District of Columbia.

All of those arrested in Maryland were to appear before U.S. Commissioner Ernest Volkart of Baltimore.

The IRS spokesman said Mopps and Byron were apprehended at Byron's apartment in Mount Rainier, a suburb of Washington. An undetermined amount of cash and lottery slips were confiscated, he said.

Finkle was picked up on a street in Annapolis. Agents confiscated $1,346 in cash and negotiable checks for $1,500.

The spokesman said the largest operation hit in Friday's crackdown was at Timonium, near Baltimore. Agents apprehended Herz and Backus, both married and unemployed, and confiscated an undetermined amount of cash and lottery slips.

Salt Poison Cause Of Babies' Deaths

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Salt poisoning was responsible for the death of six babies in the Birmingham General Hospital, where salt was mistakenly substituted for sugar in feeding formulas, the state health commissioner reported officially Friday.

Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe recommended that the State Public Health Council, of which he is a member, stiffen the state sanitary code to keep salt and other hazardous substances out of hospital areas where babies' food is prepared.

Shortly after Hilleboe's announcement, the State Social Welfare Department issued what it terms a preliminary report on its investigation of the deaths and directed the hospital to make three changes in its procedures.

Hilleboe told a news conference that the finding of "toxemia due to high salt intake" came from a Health Department team that visited the hospital following the deaths last weekend.

Toxemia is a form of blood poisoning.

Fourteen babies received a salt-saturated formula, Hilleboe said. Eleven showed symptoms of poisoning and six died.

The hospital has suspended a practical nurse who said she filled a sugar can for the formula preparation room with what she thought was sugar from a larger container in the hospital's main kitchen.

...e salt and sugar were in similar cans, side by side, in the kitchen.

Any disciplinary proceeding against the nurse is up to the hospital, Hilleboe said.

The welfare department said the hospital had been issued these directives:

1. All products used in the nursery formula room are to be stored intact, not transferred from stock.

2. Whenever any "unusual incident" occurs in the hospital, an investigation is to be initiated immediately. This should be a matter of hospital policy, the department said.

3. "A well-qualified maternity supervisor" should be appointed and charge nurses (supervisory nurses) appointed for the newborn nursery and maternity division.

Boost In Wages Is Sought For Police, Firemen

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming said yesterday the loss of trained and experienced members of the Police and Fire Departments to better-paying jobs is getting to the "danger point."

"The only solution, he added, "is take home pay — more of it."

Fleming said he was speaking for his two departments because he is more familiar with them but continued he felt that all departments—hourly paid and salaried, should have a wage increase.

The commissioner spoke out on a day when five probationary patrolmen were sworn in to bring the Police Department up to strength.

In the past six years, the Police and Fire Departments have lost members by resignation with a combined years' experience total of 311, he said.

The Police Department has lost 24 men with a combined experience in years of 135; and the Fire Department 39 members with a combined experience in years of 176.

These figures do not include retirees, Fleming said. Both Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker and Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney have joined in urging that possibilities of a pay increase be explored. They feel that the prevailing wage rate is the reason.

The losses in the departments, gives both about 50 per cent experienced men, he added. Both carry a full complement of 61 men.

The average pay of a policeman and fireman here is $4,180 a year while a probationer gets $3,640, Fleming said.

"In the past six years, we have been nothing but a 'schooling program' for industry. Many of our men go into security work, others take inside jobs because the starting pay is $800 to $1,000 more than what they are getting as a policeman."

The commissioner said the present Mayor and Council through its classification and wage efforts has attempted to remedy the situation. One increase under its regime amounted to $430 and another $120. In July, under classification and merit pay plans, another $120 will be added for a total of $720 under the administration. However, the city departments' starting pay is still well under the industrial rate.

As for pay, Cumberland is about on par with other cities its size in the southern part of the country where rates are predominately low.

Asked what might be a possible solution, Fleming replied cooperation from Allegany County in reducing the municipal tax burden. The return the city or municipality gets from its tax dollar from the county is much less than that provided for county residents.

Given this tax relief, the city might be able to add a little more to the city rate, but still give the taxpayer relief. At the same time, the slight increase in the rate could be used to give a wage increase to all employees.

Local Church Lists Programs On Africa

Programs on Africa will be held during Family Night meetings at First Presbyterian Church on Sunday and again on March 25.

Rev. Maurice D. Robertson, pastor, said the program of study on Africa has been encouraged in all Presbyterian churches by the National Council of Presbyterian Men and the National Presbyterian Women's Organization.

Citing the impact on world affairs since nation after nation on the Dark Continent has gained independence from colonialism, Rev. Mr. Robertson said the Family Night meetings will feature studies of Africa on various age levels.

The studies, he continued, will explore the role of the church on the continent of Africa, and "our responsiveness as Christian partners."

The Presbyterian Church, Rev. Mr. Robertson added, sponsors mission work, or is affiliated with sister Presbyterian churches, in Egypt, Ethiopia, the Sudan, the Cameroun, the Congo, Rio Muni, Gabon, Nigeria, Liberia, Sierra Leone and Ghana.

The Family Night program is being sponsored by the Session, according to the pastor, who said the meetings will start with a dinner at 5:30 p. m.

Mrs. Ross G. Petty is chairman of arrangements. Assisting her are Mrs. J. D. Eisenberger, program chairman of the Women's Association; Mrs. Margaret Butt, missionary education secretary; Mrs. A. Gene Moore, junior high advisor; Mrs. William Holbrook, senior high advisor; Dr. Robert Eyer, elder and christian education chairman, and Dr. Charles A. Orlick, elder and moderator of the Sunday evening meetings.

Ann Landers . . . Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a fight followed. It was a scandalous mess and we LOST.

Today our niece is married to a punchy prize-fighter with a jail record. The boy is 13. He looks underfed and wears shabby clothes. He runs with roughnecks and is well on his way to delinquency.

It kills us when we run into him downtown, but we can say nothing. His life would have been so different had the girl kept her word. But I guess it was expecting too much. — SAD C's

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDER'S booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright 1962, Field Enterprises, Inc.)

DEAR R.N.: If you love Carl, marry him. You can consider adoption later.

As for your relatives, why did you blab to them in the first place? This matter comes under the heading of strictly personal business. You were grossly unfair to your fiancé to give the "little secret" such wide circulation.

It is entirely possible that one day you will have children of your own and then, of course, you could be the target for some ugly speculation. Keep quiet from now on.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The past four years have been unbearable. I'll admit that I'm the one who starts all the fights at our house. My husband doesn't say a word. The reason I blow up so often is because I am not getting a square deal.

My husband and I run a business together. In addition to taking care of the house and children I put in a full day at the business.

The trouble sets in when my husband takes time off in the middle of the afternoon to entertain himself. A few afternoons a week he leaves to play golf or maybe just to go home and take a nap. (The doctor says golf is good for his heart.)

I've thought of walking out on the business and making him hire someone to do my job but I can't. The business just barely makes a living for us. If we had to pay an outsider a full time salary we would go in the red.

My husband's health isn't too good, but sometimes I think he uses this as an excuse to loaf. What can I do?—STUCK BUT GOOD

DEAR STUCK: You can change your attitude. Not so much for HIS sake but for your own. Your resentment is probably more damaging than the hard work.

When a husband is not in good health his wife must often pull a double load. Of course it's tough on her, but life can hand down some punishing decisions. Consider this your cross to bear and accept it with grace.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your advice to the childless couple in their 40's who wanted to adopt their niece's out-of-wedlock child was superb. We went through the identical experience. This is what happened to us:

Our niece promised us faithfully that she would never let the boy know she was his mother. Well, she kept her word—for 18 months. Then one evening she came to our home with her boy friend, took the child, clothing and all.

She told our housekeeper that we had given her permission to take the baby for the weekend. We had to hire detectives to bring them back. The girl wouldn't give up her child. An ugly court

R. J. Stakem Chairman Of Tawes Backers

Gov. J. Millard Tawes yesterday announced the appointment of Richard J. Stakem, Cumberland, as chairman of the Tawes Ticket campaign in Allegany County.

At the same time, the chief executive also appointed State Sen. Bernard I. Gonder as campaign chairman in Garrett County, Alton Bennett as campaign chairman in Frederick County and Henry Himmeler and Charles O. Fisher as campaign chairman and treasurer respectively in Carroll County.

Delbert Null, Frederick, previously was named chairman of the Tawes Ticket campaign in Western Maryland.

Gov. Tawes is seeking re-election on a ticket composed of Rep. Daniel B. Brewster for U. S. senator, Louis L. Goldstein for state comptroller, Thomas B. Finan for attorney general and House Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson for Congressman-at-large.

Speaking on behalf of the members of his ticket, Gov. Tawes said he was "pleased and happy to learn that men of such recognized ability had agreed to assist him in the present campaign."

Stakem, married and the father of seven children, attended public and parochial schools in Midland and is a member of the George's Creek Democratic Club.

He is treasurer of the Al-Gar Federal Credit Union and was with the Internal Revenue Service for 21 years.

Community College To Offer New Courses

Two new courses — chemical technology and secretarial science — are being added to the Allegany Community College, effective next fall.

This was revealed by Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, president of the college, in a speech Thursday at a meeting of the Columbia Street School PTA.

Chemical technology, according to Dr. Zimmer, will afford excellent opportunities to high school graduates because of the advantage it offers for immediate employment. The course, to be presented on a cooperative basis with area industries over a three-year period, works like this:

A student must have a year of college work. Then for the next two years he would alternate semesters in the college lab and in the employment of industry.

A feature of the technical course, Dr. Zimmer added, is the fact that it offers immediate employment upon completion, or the chance for advanced education in the subject.

The college, completing its first year of operation, is expected to have an enrollment next September of almost three times the present figure, the president declared. It opened last September with 102 students and had 124 when the second semester began in February. By next September, 350 students are anticipated and the following year the number should be close to 500.

These estimates, Dr. Zimmer declared, are based on a questionnaire filled out by high school students in a survey conducted by the college.

Pointing out that only 20 per cent of Allegany County's high school graduates go on to higher education, as compared to 35 per cent in the state and an extraordinarily high rate of 65 per cent in Montgomery County, Dr. Zimmer says there is a real need here for a community college.

It is his opinion that the Allegany County rate of increase will be doubled within the next few years, "and as the college becomes established it will be making worthwhile contributions in the community. It is my plan to encourage all kinds of community activities be held at the college."

Reminding his listeners that the society of today is exploding with revolutionary discoveries and that man's storehouse of knowledge is being doubled every ten years, Dr. Zimmer explained that these conditions prompt a definite need for higher education.

Competition, on the labor market, he added, is going to be so extremely keen in the next five or six years that the uneducated will become unemployable. "There simply won't be any jobs for them," the speaker declared.

One of the big advantages of a community college, according to Dr. Zimmer, is the comparative low cost to the student. Whereas the tuition at Allegany Community College costs the student only $100 a semester, a four-year education at a state university costs $7,500 and $11,000 at private institutions. By 1970, he added, the latter two figures will be approximately $15,000 and $20,000 to $25,000.

Dr. Zimmer was introduced by Mrs. Henry Sauer, who heads the Columbia Street PTA's program committee.

George R. Hughes, Jr., president of the PTA, named Mrs. Rosemarie Ar. . . . Mrs. Leland Ranson and Edward Eyer on the nominating committee for the election of officers for the 1962-

WANDERLUST

You see a giant ship at dockside and suddenly, you yearn to board her and journey to far-off, exotic ports.

Why? For the sake of excitement — adventure — or because, like most people, you feel the need to escape, at times, even from yourself?

This desire to escape is human. But it is also impossible. No matter where you go, the self you'd like to fling away, travels with you.

Sail the seven seas, if you can. But first find personal peace. Go to church. God shows you, through His Church, the only way that you and that self of yours, truly can travel together.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Spring Is For Growing Anew

A new you? Is that what you feel you'd like to be this spring? Then, don't just dream about it—do something to set yourself stirring!

It's a wonderful time of year to make changes, to make wishes come true! The weather alone inspires you. Your whole self seems awakened, more alive, bursting with winter-buried energy.

You can take off those inches and pounds you've accumulated since the holidays. Telling yourself that you can is the hardest hurdle in getting it done!

Should you really bother over a new hair style? Why not? Just this once, take a fling against fashion. If your hair has been worn short, let it grow longer, just to be different. If it's long, have it shorn and shaped.

For an added filip, why not

Collectivist Cuba
And The Doctrine

Imposition of collectivist rule in Cuba is intended to so tighten Communism's embrace that it cannot be loosened by the removal of any one leader or idol.

It provides the kind of floating power that carried the Soviet master model through the impact of Stalin's death and the succession of pretenders who followed until Khrushchev consolidated his position. As applied to Cuba, it consists of a 25-member directorate that answers neither to an electorate nor any other expression of popular support.

Moscow-trained Communists now openly run Cuba's government and direct the single party that offers no choice of candidates. Their control thus becomes self-perpetuating until forcibly removed.

Accordingly, disillusionment with Castro becomes inconsequential. All significant power resides elsewhere.

In subverting Cuba international Communism has subverted the Monroe Doctrine.
Whereas the United States once considered itself solely responsible for ridding this hemisphere of foreign influence it now prefers to act in concert with Latin American countries.

A test of this collective security's effectiveness is now at hand. Unless the Organization of American States can succeed in isolating and strangling the Communist danger in Cuba, the United States may find it necessary to return to its original concept of the Monroe Doctrine.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

What's A Girl Worth?

I came across a circular which says: "You can rent a typist, stenographer, comptometer-operator or other office worker for a day, a week or even longer." Nothing is said about renting a wife for a short or long period! The idea is that if you rent a girl instead of hiring her, you avoid "social security expense, compensation insurance, personal absence, vacation pay, holiday pay, sick pay, state disability insurance, payroll bookkeeping expense, unemployment insurance."
It seems like a good idea, except who pays for all this?

Another ad shows exactly how this scheme works:
"When you hire a typical temporary worker at $70.00 per week (35 hours at $2.00) fringe benefits bring it up to $91.95. . . . Here's how:

" $1.57 Social Security
1.89 State Unemployment Insurance
.21 Federal Unemployment Insurance
.09 Compensation Insurance
2.80 Vacation
1.18 Cost of Hiring Personnel
3.23 Average Sick Pay
.77 Payroll and Bookkeeping Expenses
1.35 Average Christmas Bonus
3.22 Average Holiday Pay
3.50 Average Pensions
.15 Election Day
1.44 Life Insurance, Blue Cross, etc.
.04 Severance or Termination Pay
.21 Personal Absence
.30 State Disability
$21.95 plus $70.00 $91.95 weekly"

The point of the matter is that there is an unbelievable shortage of competent, trained office help.
Girls who are college graduates and know how to use a typewriter do not necessarily know anything about office routines nor are they necessarily intelligent outside their so-called fields of major disciplines and much depends upon what college a girl went to. An
A in some colleges may not bring a C at Radcliffe or Barnard and in an office, a very personable girl may be extremely dumb. An employer keeps changing in the hope that he will find someone as clever as the girl who married or died or went into business for herself.

The employment agencies charge the girls too much for getting jobs for them and smart ones seek other devices but no matter how it works, a girl pays through the nose for getting a job and is discontented ever after. The agencies which rent girls for temporary or permanent work do not call themselves agencies; they refer to themselves as services, but they also charge for getting jobs. The services are particularly valuable for married women who want temporary work or for over-age women who will not be accepted for permanent positions because the insurance companies object to covering them in blanket insurance policies for fringe benefits. Of course, most women can live on five or ten years off their age at little expense and if a boss will not ask for a birth certificate what difference does it make? A beautician is an industrial expense and there ought to be an income tax deduction for her services.

The boss is desperate. He must get his work done. He does not find efficient girls, so he goes to any agency or service or whatever it may be.
The service gives him an advantage because he is able to employ contract labor and avoid fringe benefits. Contract labor gives him the further advantage that if a girl conks out, the contractor replaces her. In such circumstances, the intimate secretary disappears; there is a laborer who is paid by the contractor who bills the boss. There are also no lapses between one girl and another.
The contractor makes service continuous. But a middle man, a padrone, has stepped into the picture.

The girl, of course, is dissatisfied, first because she knows that she is getting only a part of her wage; the rest goes to the contractor. The employer, however, is paying the full amount. Secondly, the employer cannot ever establish a confidential relationship with such a girl as I had, for instance, with a secretary who was with me nearly 20 years before she died. The contractor is the real boss and there is no telling how many girls he will provide in 20 years. Of course, some employers only use this form of contract labor for extras; but then extras have access to files, to interoffice correspondence and carbon copies and are come today, gone tomorrow.

Is contract labor of this type permissible under the law and does it violate various fringe benefit laws?
The question is whether this is a tax evasion gimmick or is it forced upon management as a measure to assure office efficiency?

'It's Just Hunger Pains Caused By The U.S.'

Can The President Ignore Acts Of Congress?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Widespread indifference to the Constitution can develop if our highest officials are inclined to by-pass various provisions of the document itself. When, therefore, President Kennedy indicates that, although Congress may appropriate $320 million for B-70 bombers, he doesn't intend to have such planes made anyway, a sharp question arises. Can a President of the United States ignore a specific direction enacted into law by Congress that he spend money for a given purpose?

Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee disputes the President's supposed right to refuse to provide the armament which Congress "directs" him to provide.

What does the Constitution itself say about all this? It says:
"Congress shall have power. . . .
"To declare war. . . .
"To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years;
"To provide and maintain a navy;

"To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;
"To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions;
"To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the states respectively the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress. . . .
"To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers,

What powers over the armed services does the Constitution specifically give to the President?
In only one sentence is there any mention of the Presidential power over the armed services. This reads as follows: "The President of the United States shall be commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and shall have the power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make and receive Ambassadors and other Ministers Plenipotentiary, to make Treaties, provided two thirds of the Senators present concur, and he shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint and dismiss Justices, Judges, Consuls General, Consuls, and other Officers of the United States, except those in which the appointments are vested in the Courts; he shall grant Reprieves and Fines, and he shall pardon Offenses and remit Fines and Forfeitures."

of the militia of the several states, when called into the actual service of the United States."

Plainly, a President can issue orders as to where and how the military services shall fight, but the obligation to provide the necessary forces and equipment is vested wholly in the Congress, which appropriates the funds.

It is the function of Congress, moreover, to use its own judgment as to the size of the forces and how much equipment is needed, and to decide finally what kind of equipment shall be furnished. Executives of the departments dealing with the Armed Services can submit advice and recommendations, but Congress, through the law-making process, is the final judge of what shall be given to the military agencies.

The President, of course, can veto a bill, but two thirds of both houses can enact it into law, anyway. It has been argued that Congress cannot "direct" the President to enforce or fulfill an obligation contained in a law.
Again and again in the past, however, laws have "directed" the President to perform certain acts.

It has been stated during the present controversy that Presidents Truman and Eisenhower ignored specific provisions of appropriation laws dealing with military equipment. But two wrongs do not make a right. This correspondent was opposed to the appropriation of an extra $648 million being considered for the U.S.
Air Force in 1949. When Congress, however, enacted it into law and Mr. Truman announced he would disregard the wishes of Congress, the following paragraphs appeared in these dispatches on October 31, 1949:

"A precedent of far-reaching importance is involved in Mr.
Truman's announcement that, although he signed the military appropriation bill which provides funds for a 58-group Air Force, he will not spend the extra $648 million and will allow only a 48-group Air Force. . . .
"The Congress made a mistake in voting for a 58 instead of a 48-group Air Force, but the law is on the statute books and if he should have made clear that he would veto the bill and Congress would have had the choice of overriding the veto or amending the bill to meet the President's wishes.

"Rightly or wrongly, Congress wants a 58-group Air Force, and it is the duty of the President to give Congress what it voted."

The basic issue remains the same today. Can a President of the United States arbitrarily decide for himself which laws passed by Congress he will enforce and which ones he will disregard? If so, what becomes of the Presidential oath, spelled out in the Constitution itself: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States?"

The Constitution also specifically declares, as one of the duties of a President, that "he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

But supposing a President deliberately ignores the wishes or directions of Congress, what can be done about it? There is only one course open, namely, impeachment for "misdeameors."
Would a refusal "to faithfully ex-cute" a law passed by Congress be a "misdeameor"? One definition of "misdeameor" is "misconduct." Certainly refusal by a President to "execute" a law would be a breach of faith with the Congress.

Speaker McCormack Has Trouble
Running House Of Representatives

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It's beginning to look as if the unruly House of Representatives is more than its new Speaker, John McCormack, can manage.

He has all but lost control of its creaky, cumbersome legislative machinery to the strong-willed committee chairmen, most of them senior Southern Democrats.
The chairmen have formed a loose alliance with GOP leader Charlie Halleck's disciplined republicans.

"Two-Cadillac Charlie," as resourceful a guerrilla fighter as ever laid an ambush in the political jungle, is boastfully predicting the defeat of three major items of New Frontier legislation.

They are: federal aid to education, medical care for the elderly, and tax reforms which Kennedy needs to balance the budget.

The most Halleck will concede is that weak bills might be allowed to pass the House after the political stingers have been removed.

One reason Halleck is calling the shots instead of McCormack is that the new Speaker, who came up from poverty to gain the third highest office in the land, is still practicing the precinct politics he learned back in Boston.

He operates behind a smokescreen thicker than the cigar fumes he blows into the air around him. Within this acrid cloud, he confers, conciliates, and confabulates; he trades in political promises, favors and deals.

He has reduced the House of Representatives, his critics say, to the level of a Boston courthouse.

Kids Will Play

He had scarcely taken over the gavel from the ailing Speaker Sam Rayburn last year than the unwieldy House began to flounder.
Like school kids with the teacher away, the Congressmen ran roughshod over substitute McCormack when he attempted to push through a postal rate increase.

Meanwhile Long John, as the gaunt and grizzled McCormack is sometimes called, was letting Kennedy's foreign-aid dollars get trimmed in the House in his drive to become permanent Speaker.
He placated Louisiana Congressman Otto Passman, the chief foreign-aid opponent, as he slashed the President's program from $4-800,000,000 to $3,870,000,000. Later Passman turned round and voted for McCormack for Speaker.

On the day Congress closed, another amazing incident occurred.
McCormack rammed through a catch-all $1,000,000,000 appropriations bill and adjourned the House for the year, though it is the duty of the House to wait for Senate amendments.

It was the first time in the memory of Capitol Hill veterans that the House had not waited for the Senate. The sputtering Senators simply were forced to accept the House action on a like-it-or-lump-it basis.

Recognized Wrong Man

Some still wonder, for example, whether John deliberately allowed opponents to kill the President's proposed Urban Affairs Department or whether he was simply inept.

McCormack's backroom trades have earned him the title, "the great compromiser." He insists that he never compromises his convictions, but some Congressmen wonder what private commitments may be behind one of good old John's maneuvers.

McCormack supposedly had an agreement from GOP leader Halleck that the Republicans wouldn't force a vote on the measure until after the Senate had acted. However, two maverick Republicans,

Iowa Congressman H. R. Gross and Michigan Congressman George Meader, refused to take orders from Halleck and conspired to force a vote in the House ahead of the Senate.

To do this, Meader of Michigan jumped up and demanded recognition. Many Congressmen knew why he wanted to be recognized, knew he wanted to bolt the leadership and embarrass the White House.

And for some strange reason John McCormack, sitting in the Speaker's chair, gavel in hand, recognized him. He didn't have to.
He could have ignored him. But he gave Meader the nod and Meader thereupon proceeded to force an early vote on the Urban Affairs Department, which everyone knew would cut the ground out from under Kennedy.

Some congressmen are still wondering whether Long John Mc-Cormack really didn't know what Michigan's Meader was up to.

Another Deal Fizzled

Another McCormack deal that backfired was the abortive attempt to add three new seats to the House, something the late Mr. Sam had firmly opposed.

Long John hoped to save a Democratic seat in his home state of Massachusetts, so made a deal with Two-Cadillac Charlie to save the seat of a Pennsylvania Republican, Congressman Ivor Fenton, in return.

Mt. St. Mary's Advances To Finals In NCAA College Tournament

Mounts Beat So. Illinois Quint, 58-57

Ed Pfeiffer's Shot At End Of Contest Decides Thriller

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Ed Pfeiffer hit a 20-foot shot as the game ended to give Mt. St. Mary's of Emmitsburg, Md., a 58-57 victory over Southern Illinois Friday night in the semifinals of the NCAA College Basketball Tournament.

Sacramento State met Nebraska Wesleyan in the second game at Roberts Stadium. The winners advance to the finals Saturday night.

The opening semifinal contest was a tug-of-war from the start with the Mountaineers taking the lead in the last 10 minutes and hanging on until 20 seconds remained. Then Southern's Jim Gualdoni intercepted a pass, rifled the ball to Ed Spila, who passed off to Rod Linder under the basket. Linder put it in and Southern was in front 57-56.

With only five seconds left, the Mountaineers' 6-5 sophomore Jack Campbell took the tipoff on a jump ball and flicked the ball to Pfeiffer. His winning shot ricocheted through the hoop from high off the backboard as the game ended.

Pfeiffer topped the scoring with 17 points. Stila headed Southern with 15.

The Mountaineers will take a 23-6 record into the finals. Southern, ranked No. 9 in the AP college poll, closed out with 20-10.

He scored 159 field goal and 86-117 fouls and posted an average of 21.3. Kerns is 6-foot-2, tips the beam at 175, made the first all-conference team and the all-tournament team in the Class A sectional tourney. He has earned letters in baseball, basketball and track. Last season another member of Coach Quentin Sayers' Fort Ashby quint, Paul Price, paced the PVC scorers with 461 points in 18 games for a 25.6 average.

Wake Forest Downs Hawks In Overtime

Score 96-85 Win Over St. Joseph's

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Wake Forest survived its second consecutive overtime scare and advanced to the finals of the NCAA Eastern regional basketball tournament with a 96-85 victory over St. Joseph's of Philadelphia Friday night.

Wake Forest, Atlantic Coast Conference champion, trailed most of the game before Billy Packer's 21-foot jumper with four seconds remaining in regulation time tied the score 74-74.

Wake Forest then poured in 22 points in the five-minute overtime to scuttle the upset hopes of the smaller Hawks, who whipped the Deacons in last year's Eastern regional.

In the overtime, Wake scored 12 straight points to run up an 86-74 advantage before the Hawks could tally.

Packer was given his chance for the last-second heroics when Billy Hoy of St. Joseph's missed a foul shot with 13 seconds remaining.

Wake Forest quickly worked the ball downcourt, and Packer let loose his one-hander from just outside the foul circle.

Len Chappell, Wake Forest's All-America, led all scorers with 34 points—including 5 in the extra period. Tom Wynne paced St. Joseph's with 29.

Wake Forest won an overtime tussle against Yale last Monday to advance to the semifinals.

Carry Back, Yorky To Vie In Handicap

Four-And-Twenty In Field Of Nine

HALLANDALE, Fla. (UPI)—Nine horses were entered Friday to make the $100,000-added Gulfstream Park Handicap one of the top races of the year.

The mile and one-quarter feature brought together for the first time the two stars of the Florida handicap division, California's outstanding horse and a promising newcomer.

Calumet Farm entered Yorky, victor in the recent $100,000 Widener Handicap at Hialeah, Carry Back, Kentucky Derby and three-year-old champion of 1961, and the California ace, Four-and-Twenty rounded out the big three for Saturday's 17th running of the handicap.

Yorky and Carry Back may go to the post as equal co-favorites with Four-and-Twenty a close second choice.

But not to be overlooked was J. J. Dreyfus Jr.'s Beau Purple, last week's easy winner of the tuneup Appleton Handicap. The colt, which recently shattered Hialeah's seven furlong track record, will be battling Four-and-Twenty for the lead.

Carry Back and Four-and-Twenty will carry equal high weight of 126 pounds, spotting Yorky a five pound advantage.

The five others rounding out the field were the Brae Burn Farm entry of Jay Fox, 111 pounds and Shirley Jones, 114, with Larry Gilligan scheduled to ride one of them; Sherluck, 119, with Bravilio Baeza up; the Surprise entry of Aeroflot, 109, and Louis Wolfson's Garwol, 109, with Johnny Sellers riding.

FOUR GOOD COACHES — "We got some good coaches here. Hornsby is working on the hitters. Ruffing is with the pitchers. And we got Lavagetto and Hemus and they know all the departments. And I'm here and I've been around a long time.

"You'd have to make it up for five or 10 years to make it in some other organization. We got a new stadium, a good radio contract, and a lot of people around New York. Why can't we make enough money for the players to make enough, too?"

"We've got to get down to making this club and building it. Weiss thought that I could do the job, and I'm here doing it. And we got pretty uniforms, too."

Casey then went into his roster, position by position, and if you interrupted him he'd halt you and continue telling you about somebody else.

"Now we start with center field. There's Ashburn. What's wrong with him? He led the league in stolen bases. He gets on base 200 times. Then right field, Gus Bell.

Benny McRae of Michigan won the 50-yard high hurdles in 6.3. John Mulrooney of Notre Dame finished second and Charles Hammock of Villanova was third. The time was far off the meet record of 5.9 set by Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan two years ago. Jones did not compete.

No Big Stars In Lineup Of New York's Brand New Mets But Is Boss Casey Stengel Disheartened? Just Listen!

Editor's Note: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow on this page daily.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — It was great to be a Yankee and Casey Stengel, who was great as a Yankee, tries to make you believe it now is great to be a Met. That's the New York Mets, new entry in the N. L.

Casey was the first to admit, in an historic statement after a recent pennant win, that "I couldn't have done it without the team." Well, Casey will have to do it "without a team" this year although in camp here he will tell you that "the weather's wonderful," that "everything's wonderful," and that "it's great to be with this organization."

"The players should love it for we have 25 positions open, we've got money to spend and a new stadium and New York needs another team and we'll be good for the National League."

Casey Still No. 37 — Any resemblance between Casey Stengel, Yankee, and Casey Stengel, Met, is more than coincidental. Old Case, resplendent in his new white and blue uniform and his same old number "37," is still the same old gaffer, unleashing the vocal cords at the drop of a pencil and frequently telling you he has work to do — but he will take time out because "I have good men out there and they take care of it for me."

After an hour's discourse, in which Casey stressed how great it was for youngsters to want to be a Met because they have such a "great opportunity" here, we came up with some semblance of a 1962 edition of the Mets, who will play in the Polo Grounds this year but have a new ball park, Flushing Meadows Stadium, coming up in 1963.

And, even if you don't recognize the names, this is about the way the new N. Y. nine will take the field this season.

Probable Starters — Richie Ashburn, center field; Don Zimmer, third base; Charley Neal, second base; Frank Thomas, left field; Gus Bell, right field; Gil Hodges, first base; Felix Mantilla, shortstop, and Hobie Landrith, catcher. The starting pitcher at this time probably will be Roger Craig, ex-Dodger, who was 5-6 last year.

All of these boys, some of them a bit on the oldish side, are former major leaguers, but certainly not stars. Casey has enough quantity in camp to pick some others, but it will be a struggle. It may take five years to put together a respectable team.

But let Casey talk — just a little:

"We're here to find out about this team. I'm here and George Weiss is here and I've got some players. Every player is strange. We have to live together now. All right, you ask me, how are we going to work into it? Well, maybe in five years we can have a better understanding both between the players and us, and the players. I have some players who played good ball for teams. We've got to buck some first-class organizations and first-class teams. I want the players to do as well as I.

"Take a man like Hodges. Why couldn't he grow into the organization? He is popular around New York. We have 25 players here who have a chance to make the team. It's a great opportunity for us all.

Four Good Coaches — "We got some good coaches here. Hornsby is working on the hitters. Ruffing is with the pitchers. And we got Lavagetto and Hemus and they know all the departments. And I'm here and I've been around a long time.

"You'd have to make it up for five or 10 years to make it in some other organization. We got a new stadium, a good radio contract, and a lot of people around New York. Why can't we make enough money for the players to make enough, too?"

Colt 45's Score Over Bosox, 9-1

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — Home runs by Bob Seppomonte and Jim Pendleton powered the Houston Colt 45's to an easy 9-1 triumph over the Boston Red Sox Friday.

Aspromonte opened the game with a solo homer off Red Sox starter Ted Wills. Pendleton cracked a three-run homer off Dave Morehead in the fifth.

Outfielder Jack Waters drove in four runs for the Colt 45's.

When Hornsby managed at Cincinnati, Bell had good seasons.

"Let's see what else we got? At first I got Hodges, Ed Bouchee and Jim Marshall. At second I got Charley Neal. I saw Neal in the 1959 Series and I thought he was the best player on the field. The other day here he was great. I want to thank the Los Angeles club for his coming here.

"I got four or five shortstops. There's Felix Mantilla, Elio Chacon, a young fellow named Bruce Fitzpatrick, two other youngsters named Rod Kanehl, who was at Nashville, and Sam Drake, who was with the Cubs.

Likes Dawes Hamilt — "I got Don Zimmer at third and he's an experienced team player. See that kid out there. That's Dawes Hamilt, who's never played pro ball but I like him.

"Now as to my catching, I got Hobie Landrith and he's experienced. Joe Ginsberg has played for eight managers. And then there are Chris Cannizzaro (Portland) who can catch and throw the ball, and Clarence Coleman, who was with the Phils."

Casey paused to light up a cigarette and then continued:

"We have 10 pitchers, but we don't have any 1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8-9-10. Craig has looked good. Then I got Bob Miller, Craig Anderson, Sherman Jones, Al Jackson and some of these boys pitched in the winter leagues. I got some older men like Clem Labine and Hovie Lunn. And I got two lefthanders in Ken Mackenzie (Louisville) and Jay Hook (Reds).

"Yes, sir, I got some players and they ought to want to play here. Say, this is a nice day, isn't it?"

Bi-State Pony Baseball Loop To Meet Sunday

The Bi-State Pony Baseball League meets Sunday at 2 p. m., at Frostburg City Hall and hopes to have all teams lined up for the 1962 campaign.

All teams interested in obtaining franchises are urged to have representatives at the meeting.

The league had eight teams last year, and they finished the season in the following order: Mt. Savage, Cresantown, Lonaconing, Frostburg Mounties, Little Moes, Corrigantville, Barton and Westernport. The Mounties copped the playoff title.

Nash, a 6-foot-5 sophomore who led Kentucky to the Southeastern Conference co-championship, poured in 23 points before he fouled out with four minutes left.

The Wildcat rookie had fired Kentucky to a 33-27 first half lead before he was benched when he picked up his third foul.

Butler, the smallest team in the tournament, quickly took advantage of his absence and cut the gap to 37-36 going into the second half.

Pursful scored 26 points and quarterbacked the Wildcats to their 23rd victory against two losses.

Butler wasn't able to cope with Kentucky's fast break and quickly dropped out of contention in the second half.

Patterson, Liston Sign For Title Go, Champion Will Pick Date And Site

Six Cities Are Under Consideration; Scrap May Gross $6 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Sonny Liston, grim and with no traces of friendliness, signed a contract Friday for a heavyweight title fight this summer which the promoter predicted would gross more than $6,000,000.

The date and site will be picked later—by the champion.

Governor's Cup Race Set Today

15 Three-Year-Olds May Start At Bowie

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — A probable field of 15 lesser lights among this year's 3-year-old thoroughbred class was entered for the Governor's Gold Cup Saturday.

Prize money totaling $35,500 will be distributed at the end of the seven-eighths of a mile race if there are no scratches. The net profit for the winning owner will be $23,107.50.

Named for the sprint were Dick's Pet, Grid Iron Hero, Mike, Nemrac, Daddy R. N. Admiral Gano, Sweet Evenin', Pastiflor, Navy Cutter, Fruit Shipper, No Man's Land, Proud Fox, Rico Beau, Count New York and President John.

Daddy R. and Proud Fox will run as one betting entry for Mrs. Ada L. Rice.

Most handicappers were tabbing Harold G. Bensing's Dicks Pet as the favorite. He has won both his races so far this year, including the $10,000 George Washington Stakes at Bowie Feb. 24. That stakes was at three-quarters of a mile and also was restricted to 3-year-olds.

Jones Belts Fifth As Braves Lose, 8-6

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Rookie Mack Jones hit his fifth exhibition homer in six games and boosted his spring batting average to .458 with two other hits Friday, but the Milwaukee Braves were defeated by the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-6.

Curt Flood led a 12-hit Redbird attack with a single, double and homer, driving in four runs as the Cardinals pulled up to .500 for six games. Milwaukee has a 2-4 record.

Colorado Victor Over Texas Tech

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Colorado's Big Eight champions swept into an 11-point halftime lead, then held off Texas Tech's desperate rallies for a 67-60 victory Friday night in a semi-final game of the NCAA Midwest regional basketball tournament.

Defending national champion Cincinnati met Creighton in the second game. The winners will play for the Midwest championship Saturday night.

Nugget Cops Three

The Golden Nugget of Frostburg swept three games from the Cumberland V.F.W. in an Allegheny County Men's Shuffleboard League match last night. Robert Mannick and Bill Conrad sparked the winners with 20 tallies each. T. Hemmis was high man for the Vets with 14 points.

Chisox Win, 10-7

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox jumped on Kansas City pitcher Norm Bass for four runs in each of the first two innings and went on to defeat the A's Friday, 10-7, in the Met opening lineup.

Tom Bolan, president of the promoting Championship Sports, Inc., said six cities are under consideration — New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Washington and Seattle.

New York's Yankee Stadium is reported to have the inside track, with Los Angeles the next best possibility.

Bolan said Patterson had agreed to designate the date and place on or before April 16. The fight will be held no earlier than June 18 and no later than Sept. 30, Bolan added.

Under the terms of the contract Patterson gets 45 per cent of the live gate and 55 per cent of the ancillary rights, which include closed-circuit television, radio, movies and foreign sales.

There will be no home television.

Liston gets 12 1/2 per cent of the live gate and ancillary proceeds. The promoters receive 42 1/2 per cent of the live gate and 32 1/2 per cent of the ancillary rights.

"Our conservative estimate is that the fight will gross $6,000,000," Bolan said.

The record prize fight gate was that of the second Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney fight at Chicago's Soldier Field Sept. 22, 1927. It brought in $2,658,660 and the victorious Tunney's personal share was just short of $1,000,000.

Patterson and Liston met in the ballroom of a midtown hotel for Friday's formal signing ceremonies.

Liston, his muscles bulging under an Ivy League monard jacket, chewed gum placidly and refused to look at the champion.

"Shake hands with Patterson and smile," the photographers yelled.

Liston's expression never

Devaney Named Nebraska Coach

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — University of Nebraska regents Friday formally confirmed the appointment of Robert S. Devaney as head football coach at $17,000 a year, highest salary ever paid a grid mentor at Nebraska.

His predecessor, Bill Jennings, now an assistant at Kansas, received $14,000.

Regents hired the former Wyoming coach on a five-year basis, but on terms of appointment rather than contract. The appointment was effective last Feb. 1.

Cincinnati Tops N. Y. Mets, 5-3

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds collected 10 hits, including homers by Frankie Robinson and Gordy Coleman, to beat the New York Mets, 5-3, Friday behind the nine hit pitching of Jimmy O'Toole and Bill Henry.

Five ex-Reds — Gus Bell, Norm Hermanson, Sherm Jones, Elio Chacon, and Frank Thomas — were in the Met opening lineup.

Thunderbirds Lose In State Tourney, 84-59

Tunnelton Beaten By Williamstown

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Pat Woody scored 30 points and pitched in with some outstanding defensive play to lead Williamstown to an 84-59 win over Tunnelton, and Chatteroy shot a blistering 61 per cent to defeat Ronceverte 78-55 in Class-A play in the state tournament Friday.

Williamstown and Chatteroy will meet at 3 p. m. Saturday for the West Virginia "small school" title.

Tunnelton started out hot and jumped off to a 16-11 lead behind the shooting of Dave Miller. However, the Yellowjackets turned out on a blistering fast break and reeled off 11 consecutive points while holding Tunnelton scoreless to build up a 22-16 first period lead.

Miller picked up 11 points in the first period but Williamstown Coach Jim Carpenter realigned his defense in the second stanza, sticking the 6-foot-3 Woody on Miller. The Tunnelton ace picked up only three more points before fouling out in the third period.

Woody Stands Out

Woody, an all-state football player who is also at home on the hardwood — was the bulwark of the Williamstown offense. Woody pulled down 19 rebounds as the taller Yellowjackets outbounded Tunnelton 66-37.

Doug Stanley and Jack McNutt added 21 points each for Williamstown while Francis Martin was high for Tunnelton with 23 and Miller had 14.

Williamstown kept up its race-horse style and moved out to a 61-45 lead at the end of the third period and coasted in with sub playing the final three minutes of the game.

Coasts To Victory

Chatteroy built up an early lead and coasted to the win without working up a sweat. The outstanding shooting from the floor proved to be too much for Ronceverte which fell behind by as much as 26 points in the final period.

Roger Jackson hit on 12 of 21 shots from the floor to lead the Chatteroy scoring with 24 points. But it was Douglas Layne who really had the hot hand, connecting on 7 of 8 shots from the field for a total of 18 points. Frank Smith was right behind with 7 of 10 from the floor and a total of 17 points.

Dean Berkeley led Ronceverte with 18 points and Jim Sullivan added 15 as the Greenbrier County team hit only 32 per cent of its field goal attempts.

Sunday School League Playoff Finals Today

The finals in the division playoffs of the Sunday School Basketball League will be held today at Central YMCA gym beginning with the National Division clash between undefeated Trinity Methodist and Grace Baptist at 2 p. m.

The American Division title go will pit Emmanuel Episcopal's pennant winners against St. John's Lutheran at 3:30 p. m.

Trinity Methodist has won 16 consecutive games including 14 in a row on its way to the National Division's regular season flag and two straight in the playoffs. Trinity's opponent, Grace Baptist, finished fourth in the National campaign after winning both the pennant and playoff championships in the American Division in 1960-61.

Emmanuel Episcopal captured the American Division crown this year in a series of playoffs after tying with Melvin Methodist and St. Luke's Lutheran during the regular season. The Episcopalians have a 15-2 mark including three playoff victories. St. John's finished fourth during the past season.

Watch This One-10 Detroit's Gallagher Better Than Record

By WALTER L. JOHNS Central Press Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla.—If you looked at the cold statistics of Doug Gallagher's four-year minor league record you would not want to give the 22-year-old left-hander more than a passing glance.

In his first season in the pro ball, with Erie in 1953, the Fremont, O., youth won only 4 games and lost 10. In 1959 with Knoxville he won one game and lost 5. In 1960 with Knoxville Doug pitched good ball but his club didn't get him any runs. And after that bad streak he went into a playoff game with Charlotte and hurled a no-hitter.

Last year Doug really moved ahead. With Denver for 10 days he was moved to Birmingham and here he won nine in a row, losing the last game of the season by a 2 to 1 score and finishing the year with a record of 15-9.

According to Bob Scheffing, the manager, and Tom Ferrick, the pitching coach, he is about ready for the majors. Says Ferrick: "That boy has a good fast ball, slider and changeup. If he can harness his curve ball he will be not just a major league pitcher but a good major league pitcher."

The Tigers need lefthanders and so Doug has a good chance to stick around, even though the Bengal pitching is tops.

Doug recently took his physical, says he has received an okay so his draft status remains in doubt.

Doug's biggest moments came last year when he compiled that fine record at Birmingham, but he also remembers the morning he missed the team bus on the way from Atlanta to Mobile. He had to take a later bus and didn't get any sleep because he had to pitch that day. He tossed a 3-0 shutout.

Boynton Grabs Lead In Open

Fires 1st Round 65 At St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Frank Boynton, a young Texas golfer who has had nothing but ill luck on the tournament trail this year, changed his iron play and grabbed the first-round lead Friday in the $20,000 St. Petersburg Open.

Boynton shot 65 in the rerun of Thursday's washed-out first round to lead the field of 160. A total of 79 broke or matched par 72 over the 6,215-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

Boynton, 25, playing out of Corpus Christi, shot a sizzling 66 Thursday, only to have it washed out when a torrential rain storm forced cancellation of the round.

In the seven tournaments Boynton has entered this year, he has won only 161.

Mike Krak of Morgantown, W. Va., turned in a 66 for second place and Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., carded a 67 for third.

K. of C. Shufflers Win

The Knights of Columbus won three games from the Loyal Order of Moose last night in a Frostburg Men's Shuffleboard League match. Kenney led the winners with 27 points and Fisher's 14 was high for the Moose.

Phils Rained Out

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies were rained out of their exhibition game with the Detroit Tigers Friday, making it two days in a row they have been idle.

Luis Rodriguez Fights Falech

Welters To Meet At Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Luis Rodriguez and Ricardo Falech meet Saturday night in a nationally televised fight and Falech said Friday "I intend making a hit in this country by knocking out the third-ranked Rodriguez."

Falech, making his American debut after an impressive record in his native Argentina, has won 31 of his 36 fights, with two losses and three draws.

Both welterweights will weigh about 147.

Rodriguez, a Cuban now living in Miami, has scored 15 knockouts in 41 fights. He lost twice and fought two "no-decision" bouts.

The 10-rounders in Miami Beach Auditorium will be televised by ABC starting at 10 p. m. (EST).

Bruce Faculty Wins Benefit Tilt, 46-25

The Bruce High School faculty defeated the Bruce seniors, 46-25, yesterday afternoon in a benefit basketball game held at the Westernport school's gym.

John Post led the faculty tossers with 17 points. Marvin Zais tallied 12 for the seniors in the game played to obtain funds for the school yearbook, "The Archives."

Play For Charity

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bears and Philadelphia Eagles will play a charity football game at Cedar Rapids, Ia., Saturday night, Aug. 18, it was announced Friday.

It will be the second consecutive year for a Bears charity game in Cedar Rapids. They defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 30-7, last year, in a match sponsored by the West Side Civic Club.

Senators Rally To Beat Twins, 5-2

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The Washington Senators scored five runs in the eighth inning Friday to hand the winless Minnesota Twins their seventh straight loss, 5-2.

The Twins were getting fine pitching and were riding along on a 2-0 lead until the eighth.

The Twins outlast the Senators, 9-7. It was Washington's third straight victory and the fifth in seven exhibition games.

Duquesne And Navy Game On Television

NEW YORK (UPI) — An afternoon doubleheader — Colorado State vs. Holy Cross and Duquesne vs. Navy — winds up the first round of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament Saturday and then opening winners Dayton and Temple plunge into quarter-final games at night.

Holy Cross (19-5) sends one of the tourney's most colorful players, Jack (The Shot) Foley, against Colorado State (18-8) in the opening game of the afternoon bill (at 2:15 p. m. EST). Then Duquesne (20-5) and Navy (13-7) tangle in a nationally-televised game.

Dayton (21-6), which won its first-round game against Wichita, 79-71, on Thursday night meets Houston (21-5) in the opening quarter-final game. Then Temple, which upset defending champion Providence, 80-78, in overtime Thursday, goes up against Loyola of Chicago (21-3).

Houston and Loyola were two of the four seeded teams which drew first-round byes and moved right into the quarter-final round. The other two seeded teams won't see action until Tuesday night when St. John's meets the Colorado State-Holy Cross winner and Bradley meets the Duquesne-Navy winner.

Foley, second highest scorer in the nation with a 33-points per game average, figures to be the key man in the opening game of the afternoon twin bill. Colorado State's chief scoring answer to the 6-5 Crusader is one of the tourney's biggest players, 6-6, 235-pound Bill Green who averaged 20.6 per game.

Duquesne and Navy should put on a good ball-control game. Each team has fair height, but the key man could be the smallest in either starting lineup — 5-10 soph flash Willie Somerset of Duquesne.

Navy, upset by Army in its final game of the regular season, will have just an eyelash of a height advantage.

City Will Make Wage Increase Decision Soon

Department Heads Asked To Report

The Mayor and Council last night agreed to come to a decision on a wage increase for city workers by next Wednesday.

In connection with this action, all department heads will be asked to inform the Mayor and Council on the amounts which can be squeezed from their budgets for a wage increase.

Then, it would be a simple matter to add up all of the funds that can be spared from departmental budgets and then divide it among the city's some 270 employees.

City officials last night did not attempt to estimate how much money might be available, or what the increase will be. From all indications, it will be a flat increase.

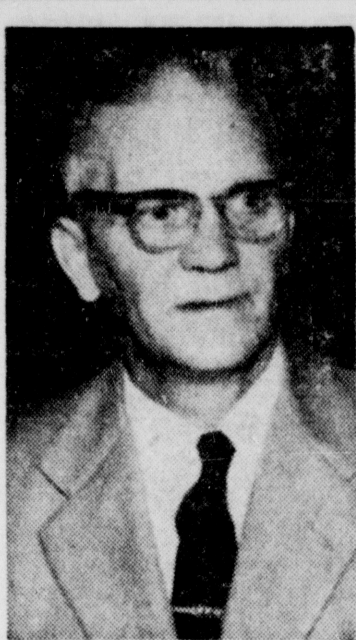

For some time, the Mayor and Council have been working on the wage increase issue, and were striving toward a $208 figure in the early discussions.

One of the problems is that there are still more than three months to go in the present fiscal year, and it is too early to estimate final income and expenditures at this time.

Considerable discussion was held on proposed revisions in the city's job classification and pay plan, and it was indicated that definite action will be taken Monday.

In cases of several positions where duties are not fully covered by existing occupational analyses, action will be sought through the Civil Service Commission.

No action was taken on the White Avenue sewer problem, which is complicated by the fact that six homes along the route are already served by septic tanks and the city code apparently makes no provisions for exceptions in filing liens for the improvement.

Morgan is a graduate of Beall High School, class of 1933, and is employed by Kelly-Springfield Tire Company in the shipping department. He is a member of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union. Morgan formerly was employed by Celanese Corporation of America for 18 years and was a member of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union.

He is the son of the late Isaac and Margaret Morgan.

Morgan served in the House of Delegates from 1942 to 1945.

Magistrate Cites Danger At Intersection

As a result of a motor case hearing yesterday afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court, Magistrate Paul W. Barnett said something should be done about the dangerous condition that exists at the intersection of Braddock Road and the road leading to Sunset View Addition.

Yesterday's case involved drivers who were charged with vehicle charges following a collision at the intersection Monday evening.

One driver, who was proceeding west, was found not guilty of reckless driving, while the other driver was fined $6.45 for failing to grant the right of way.

Magistrate Barnett said there should be more adequate road markers along that section of highway to warn motorists about the intersection. The magistrate also suggested the installation of a blinker light might be considered.

The magistrate said Sunset View is fast becoming quite a residential housing development and the traffic to that section also will become heavier as more homes are constructed.

No one was injured in Monday's crash, but there was considerable property damage to one of the cars. The Thomas E. Ruppert investigated the accident and also testified at yesterday's hearing.

Judge Finds For Defendant

A damage suit ended yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court when Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris found for the defendant.

Marshall Leon Montgomery, 316 Emily Street, for his own use and the use of the United Security Insurance Company of New York, had brought the suit against Mrs. Helene Faye Keller, National Highway, LaVale.

The suit arose from a traffic accident on McMullen Highway at Bowling Green last September 23. Mr. Montgomery, who was driving south on McMullen Highway, said that his car was struck by Mrs. Keller's car as he attempted to make a right turn into a private road. The insurance company was involved because it had paid Mr. Montgomery $457.48 damages as a result of the accident.

Only four witnesses were heard at the trial. They included Mr. Montgomery, Shirley Ann Proff, a passenger in his car; Mrs. Keller and her son, Gary Keller, who was riding with her.

Judge Harris said that he found for the defendant because the evidence convinced him that Mr. Montgomery was guilty of contributory negligence. He said witnesses made it clear that Mr. Montgomery swung to the left on the highway before turning right and gave neither a hand signal nor a directional signal with the lights on his car.

Donald W. Mason was attorney for the plaintiff and Fred H. Anderson represented the defendant.

Demo Battle For Governor Begins Monday

Tawes, Mahoney To Stump W. Md.

By The Associated Press

The paper battle phase between two of the major candidates for Democratic nomination as governor will end next week and they will carry their messages personally to the people.

Both Gov. Tawes and George P. Mahoney will start making their campaign pitches directly in Western Maryland.

For the past few months, they have relied mostly on pointing with pride to themselves or attacking the opposition in prepared statements distributed by hired publicity writers to news media.

Gov. Tawes and his slate of candidates for comptroller, attorney general, U.S. Senate, and congressman-at-large will head for the hills in a bus Sunday afternoon.

They will stump Garrett County Monday and on the next day may cross paths with the Mahoney slate.

Paths To Cross

The Mahoney group is scheduled to arrive in Allegany County Tuesday, the same area on the Tawes agenda. Both political forces will travel on to Washington and Frederick counties in the succeeding days.

The Tawes entourage has mapped out a schedule through April 27 by which time it will have covered the entire state. Two weeks will be spent on the Eastern Shore beginning March 26.

The Mahoney slate will devote the week of March 26 to Harford, Cecil, Howard, Carroll and Anne Arundel counties.

David Hume, considered the other major Democratic candidate for the governor's nomination, still is working on a planned tour of the state.

On another front, Lawrence A. Oosterhouse of Takoma Park fired a blast against Rep. Richard E. Lankford of the 5th Congressional District.

Oosterhouse will try in the May 15 primary to win the Democratic nomination from Lankford for the district of Anne Arundel, Howard and Prince Georges counties.

Oosterhouse figuratively raised his eyebrows at an expense account of $6,082 filed by Lankford for a 38-day tour last year as a member of the Armed Services Committee.

Tour Expenses

"This revelation comes at a particularly sensitive time when we are all struggling to make out our tax returns to pay for, among other things, Congressman Lankford's grand tour abroad," Oosterhouse said.

"There was nothing shady about the expense account," Lankford replied. "If there is, do you think I would have made it a matter of public record printed in the Congressional Record?"

Lankford visited Hawaii, Japan, Korea, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Vietnam, Thailand, Pakistan, Italy, Austria, Germany, France, England, and Scotland.

He listed expenses of $1,152 for meals, $1,065 for lodging, $1,379 under miscellaneous and $2,485 for transportation.

One of the four Republican candidates for the U.S. Senate nomination, James P. Gleason of Silver Spring, urged the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy of Congress to inquire why next month's nuclear tests in the Pacific will be limited in scope.

"I suggest that your committee also inquire whether these tests were limited purposely in order to pacify the Soviet Union and neutralist nations during the current disarmament conference being held in Geneva," Gleason said in a telegram.

Md. Assessors To Meet Here

The Maryland Association of Assessing Officers will conduct its spring conference at the Fort Cumberland Hotel on April 12 and 13.

Francis J. Plummer of Frostburg, an Allegany County assessor who is president of the state association, yesterday invited Commissioners John J. Rowan, John T. Mason and Louis V. Shinnamon to be the association's guests at the conference banquet on April 1. It will begin with a social hour at 5:30 p.m. followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Mr. Plummer wrote that Governor J. Millard Tawes plans to attend the state conference.

Ping Pong Trophy Winners

Trophies were presented last night to the winners of the county-wide ping pong tournament held this week at Central YMCA. William Howard, left, chairman of the tournament, is shown presenting a trophy to Randy Price, 11-12 year age group winner.

Robert Garner, right, was winner in the nine-to-10-year age group. Other recipients, in back row left to right, are Don Shifflett, men's class winner, Rickey Barnes, 13-14 age class, and Jerry Young, 15-17 age class.

Airport Project Undertaken By Flying Group

Members of the Cumberland Flying Association plan to paint "Cumberland, Maryland" in large white letters on the upper end of Runway 24 and on the Wind-Tee at the Municipal Airport in Wiley Ford.

George Griffith conferred with City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum and it was decided that association members will furnish the labor and the Airport Commission the necessary paint.

Plans for the project were discussed Thursday night during a meeting of the association, which also decided to purchase a new register for the administration building for use of those flying into the city on transient flights.

It is estimated that approximately 3,500 such flights are logged at the airport annually.

The future plans of the association include a "Fly-In Brunch" August 5 with a rain date of August 12.

On the menu again this summer will be chicken barbecue, according to Quinter Fike, president, who said the group had a successful brunch last year with several hundred planes flying in for the occasion.

Lorimer Twigg was named chairman of the brunch program.

The fifth annual Mid-Atlantic States Soaring Meet will be held at the local airport over the Memorial Day weekend.

This event is sponsored by the Mid-Atlantic Soaring Association. The Cumberland Soaring group, which is now a member of the Soaring Society of America, will be host.

Membership cards were distributed to members at Thursday's meeting. Anyone interested in flying may procure a membership card for $4 which will entitle him to association privileges.

Two films, "Wings for Beginners," and "Wings of Production" supplied by the Piper Aircraft Corporation were shown at the meeting.

Next meeting of the association will be April 19, said Mr. Fike.

License Tag Sale Reaches Peak

Sale of new Maryland automobile license tags reached its heaviest level this year when some 792 sets were sold yesterday at the office of Allegany County Tax Collector William B. Orndorff at the Court House.

Yesterday's sale was just one ahead of the 791 sold on Friday, March 2, two weeks earlier. Some 8,500 sets of tags have been sold at the Court House since they were started on February 26.

Mr. Orndorff's office will be open from 8:30 a.m. until noon today for the convenience of those unable to get to the Court House on week days. During the week the office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Motor Overheats; Firemen Called

West Side firemen were called yesterday morning to 316 Paca Street when the electric motor of a sump pump overheated causing smoke to fill the basement.

By the time firemen arrived the occupant of the dwelling pulled the plug of the motor. Firemen, who received the call at 9:33 a.m., said there was no damage.

Bishop Walsh Biography Will Be Published

A biography of Bishop James E. Walsh, native of Cumberland, who is a prisoner of Red China, will be published April 2 by G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York.

The book, "Bishop Walsh of Maryland" Prisoner of Red China, was written by Ray Kerrison who was able to compile his notes with the assistance of Miss Mary G. Walsh, sister of the bishop; William C. Walsh, his brother, and several boyhood acquaintances.

Among its 300 pages are descriptions of the bishop, an insight to the collective traits of the Chinese, their customs and homeland, and a penetrating view of Communist operations supplemented by some of the bishop's own observations.

Missionary To Talk At Church Services

Miss Doris Evans of Hyndman, Pa., missionary to Tangier, Morocco, North Africa, will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at the Christ Memorial Baptist Church in West-emport.

She is a sister of Luman O. Evans, pastor of the church. Miss Evans, who will also speak at the 7:45 p.m. worship service, is a graduate of the School of Nursing at Memorial Hospital, the Wesley Memorial Hospital School of Anesthesia and Moody Bible Institute in Chicago.

Final School Bus Check Will Start On Monday

Some 108 school buses and 12 automobiles used in transporting boys and girls to and from public schools in Allegany County will undergo their third and final inspection of the school year next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, according to J. Hubert Radcliffe, county supervisor of transportation.

Mr. Radcliffe said last night that he will be assisted in the inspection by Morris W. Rannels, state supervisor of transportation; Robert Paugh and Walter Jones, inspectors for the Department of Motor Vehicles, and Earl Harper and Hanley Buckley, local mechanics.

Also participating will be James A. Zester, safety specialist for Nationwide Insurance.

This inspection usually uncovers more defects than the earlier two checks because the buses begin to show the effects of traveling through winter weather.

On Monday there will be inspections at Flintstone School, 8:30 a.m.; Piney Plains, 10:15 a.m. and Oldtown School, 1:30 p.m.

Inspections on Tuesday will be held at Fort Hill High School, 8:30 a.m., and at Mt. Savage School, 1:30 p.m.

Finally, on Wednesday, there will be inspections at Beall High School, 8:30 a.m.; Valley High School, 11:30 a.m., and at Cooks near Dawson, 2 p.m.

Bus contractors have been advised to have their vehicles at the designated center at the appointed time to avoid delay.

Those who receive yellow slips denoting a bus fault are allowed 10 days to make the correction. Mr. Radcliffe also reported that qualified substitute bus drivers are needed throughout the county.

Nonnenmann To Head Y Member Drive

Earl M. Nonnenmann has been named chairman of the 1962 membership drive of Central YMCA.

Division captains selected for the drive include W. W. Gurley, Robert Moore, Harold D. Barber and Joseph Gratton. All men are presently serving on the board of directors of Central YMCA.

The goal of the campaign has been set at 200 new members, while the present enrollment at the "Y" is 2,251.

YMCA officials said a greater emphasis will be placed on the Health Club and family membership, with a special rate of $30 for families with children over the age of nine.

The program at the YMCA has been increased greatly the past year, officials said, and a more extensive coverage of activities is planned by the various committees.

A kick-off dinner is scheduled Thursday in the Community Room for the workers who will be involved in the membership campaign.

Two of the four boys who escaped earlier this week from the Boys Forestry Camp at Lonaconing were ordered returned yesterday to the Training School for Boys.

Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin ordered the boys remanded to the Training School following a hearing in Juvenile Court.

The other two boys are presently being held in the Garrett County Jail at Oakland, and will be given a hearing next week before Judge Stuart F. Hamill Jr., who handles juvenile cases in Garrett County.

The youths, who are 16 and 17 years old, stole two cars in Lonaconing, and then drove one of the vehicles to Cumberland. They were apprehended here by City Police on Fayette Street.

Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, will hold a celebration tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the post home in connection with the 43d anniversary of the American Legion.

The meeting will feature the initiation of 16 new members and will be followed by a buffet luncheon. Dancing will follow, beginning at 9:30 p.m.

Coin Club To Meet

The Western Maryland Coin Club will hold its regular March meeting Tuesday, March 20, at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.

Conservation Course Open To Teachers

Teachers of Allegany and Garrett counties may be interested in learning of a course "Teaching Conservation of Natural Resources" which will be taught this summer at College Park and in various parts of Maryland.

Extensive field trips to the mountains of Western Maryland, to the Eastern Shore and to the waters of Southern Maryland comprise important parts of the course, which will open June 25 at College Park and continue through August 3.

Six college credits are offered on either the graduate or undergraduate level and these credits can be used for renewal of a teacher's certificate. A number of $150 scholarships are available to qualified applicants.

Thus far there have been no teachers in Allegany County who have applied through the Board of Education to participate, said Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of public schools.

Sponsors of the six-week summer workshop courses are the College of Agriculture and the Natural Resources Institute, units of the University of Maryland. Dr. Howard R. Erickson of

ICC Hearing On B&O Trains Due April 16

Lester R. Conley, an examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission, will conduct a hearing in the Allegany County Court House on Monday, April 16, on a proposal by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to discontinue two passenger trains between Washington and Cleveland.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris said permission was granted to the ICC to use the main court room when he was informed yesterday in a phone conversation to Washington that the court room would be needed only for one day.

Ordinarily criminal trials for the April term of court would have started on April 16 but Judge Harris said they will be deferred until April 17.

The Mayor and Council of Cumberland on February 26 prepared a resolution protesting the discontinuance of Trains Nos. 17 and 18, the only B&O passenger trains running between Washington and Cleveland.

On that same day, the ICC decided to investigate the proposal. This automatically resulted in a four-month stay in the discontinuance of the Washington-Cleveland service. It had been scheduled to end March 10.

The hearing here, expected to attract about 100 persons, is one of four scheduled by the ICC on this case. Others will be held in Washington, Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

Since the federal court room in the Post Office building was closed in 1956 and the furniture moved to the Court House, the judges of Allegany County Circuit Court have granted permission for U. S. District Court to be held at the Court House here. There have been only two federal trials here in that period of nearly six years.

Two Allegheny County women have been nominated by county commissioners for a vacancy on the County Welfare Board.

Commissioner Louis V. Shinnamon nominated Mrs. Noel Speir Cook of Frostburg, Commissioner John J. Rowan nominated Mrs. Robert W. Huck of Coverwood.

The two names will be submitted to the State Department of Public Welfare for approval and then one will be selected.

Wilbur Johnson, Nikep, resigned from the Welfare Board several months ago when he accepted a position as a member of the Board of Zoning Appeals for the county.

B&O Is Building Lighter Trailers For Piggyback Fleet

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad said today it has constructed and placed in service the first of a fleet of new, aluminum, demountable trailers for piggyback service.

The 40-foot highway trailers are to be built by the B&O at its Mt. Clare Shops in Baltimore. They will be 41 per cent lighter than conventional units of the same size.

The B&O is the first railroad to construct aluminum trailer vans in its own shops.

The 50 new trailers on order will increase to 759 the number of units of all types which the B&O is using in its rapidly growing piggyback service. In this service, highway trailers are transported by rail, with specially-constructed mobile cranes being used to transfer demountable bodies between flat cars and wheeled trailer chassis for street movement.

Use of the new lightweight, aluminum demountable trailers will make it possible to move heavier loads and still comply with state laws governing weight limits for over-the-road movement of trailer trucks.

Two Nominated For Welfare Board Post

Two Allegheny County women have been nominated by county commissioners for a vacancy on the County Welfare Board.

Commissioner Louis V. Shinnamon nominated Mrs. Noel Speir Cook of Frostburg, Commissioner John J. Rowan nominated Mrs. Robert W. Huck of Coverwood.

The two names will be submitted to the State Department of Public Welfare for approval and then one will be selected.

Wilbur Johnson, Nikep, resigned from the Welfare Board several months ago when he accepted a position as a member of the Board of Zoning Appeals for the county.

Rep. Wright To Speak At Demo Dinner

500 Expected Tuesday Night

James C. Wright Jr., Representative from the 12th District of Texas, will be the guest speaker at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner at Clarysville Inn Tuesday at 7 p.m., according to William L. Wilson Jr., chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Allegany County.

The dinner is sponsored by the State Central Committee. Mr. Wilson said, with the assistance of the several Democratic clubs in the county.

Thomas B. Finan, Maryland attorney general and former local and state committee chairman, will be master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Rose Hay and Mrs. Sarabell Weatherolt are in charge of ticket distribution, and various office holders, party workers and members of party-affiliated clubs are distributing tickets. A report last night indicated that most of the 500 available reservations have been taken.

Response Is Good

Mr. Wilson said acceptances to invitations have been received from a number of federal, state, county and municipal officials, and many visitors are expected from adjacent counties as well.

State candidates in the Democratic primary have all been invited and most have accepted, Mr. Wilson said.

A souvenir program has been prepared by William B. Orndorff and F. Allan Weatherholt. Rev. Francis Montgomery, pastor of St. Michael's Church, Frostburg, will offer the invocation and Rev. H. M. Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church will offer the benediction.

Members of the planning committee will meet at noon today at the Fort Cumberland Hotel to take care of last-minute details.

Native Of Fort Worth

Rep. Wright is a native of Fort Worth, Texas, where he was born December 22, 1922, a son of James C. and Marie (Lyster) Wright. He received his formal education at Weatherford College and the University of Texas. He served two terms as mayor of Weatherford and has been elected to Congress from his district for four successive terms.

Mr. Wright was elected the most outstanding young man in Texas in 1952 by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is an active Presbyterian layman, a lifelong Democrat and has a long record of activity in civic affairs. He is a close friend of Vice President Lyndon Johnson. During World War II, he served with the Air Force.

He is married to the former Mary Ethelyn Lemons, and they have three children, Jimmy, Virginia Sue and Patricia Kay.

Mr. Wright will come here by plane Tuesday afternoon.

B&O Passenger Train Future Tied To Deficit

BALTIMORE (AP) — Only in the event the net deficit continues at its present rate would the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad consider discontinuance of its passenger service, a spokesman said Friday.

Jervis Langdon Jr., president of the B&O, said in Pittsburgh Thursday that the railroad might have to consider the possibility of cutting the money-losing passenger operations.

The B&O had a deficit of more than $31 million in 1961 and Langdon said $8 million to $9 million a year was lost on passenger train operations.

He reiterated previous statements that the B&O's position was urgent. He said the railroad had reshuffled officials and cut personnel on the passenger traffic staff almost in half during recent months.

A spokesman said Friday about 1,000 people are employed in passenger service. But, he said, if the railroad should consider discontinuance of passenger service at some future date, many of the employees would be reclassified and would be retained.

Van Heflin Sees Acting As Art, Not Business

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—Is acting an art or a business? And is an actor an artist or a businessman?

Van Heflin himself feels that acting is an art—an interpretive art, not a creative one. But it's still art. And he objects strongly to any actor who demeans his profession in any way.

"Take these actors," Heflin said, "who adhere to a rigid schedule. They will say they are going to do two pictures a year—or three or one. Now any actor who does that is in business, not in art."

"I never know how much I'll be working," he says. "I turned down 14 scripts last year. They were just bad scripts, that's all. But it hurts."

"I get $100,000 a picture and if I don't work, that means that's $100,000 I don't make."

"We don't live lavishly, but we live well. And why shouldn't we? After all, I've been an actor for 30 years, and I should be entitled to a good life."

"And I must confess," he says, "that when I read a script, the first thing I look for is where it will be made. We love to travel, so making a film or a TV show gives us an opportunity to do that. If the script is to be filmed in an interesting place, I read it with a kind of desperate hope that it will be good."

A case in point, he says, is "U. S. 1," a TV show which he narrates which will be shown over the NBC network on March 29. This was shot in Maine and in Key West, Fla., the northern and southern terminals of the highway about which the TV documentary revolves. The fact that it would take him to those two spots was one factor which persuaded Heflin to accept.

Carol Burnett Not Replaceable, Opines Producer

"There is no other Carol Burnett. No one can replace her."

That tribute came from Bob Banner, producer of the Garry Moore Show, when it was learned that the comedienne was not renewing her contract with the popular series so that she can venture into other fields.

Both Banner and Moore emphasized that the parting is an amicable one. They said that she would return for as many appearances as possible next season. Her last regular appearance will be on June 26 when the program vacations for the summer.

Carol, in making the move, admits it has saddened her. "The program has been like a family to me. I feel like crying," she said.

"I am reading scripts for shows," she continued. "Julie Andrews and I are hoping for a show together. Any other arrangement that would keep me on television on a regular basis, even at longer intervals, would defeat the purpose of leaving. I feel I'd be wearing myself thin."

Moore in summing up noted, "Carol is moving into areas which she should now enter. Any performance she gives is a strenuous effort."

Little Caesar Gets Legal Video Role

Television is about to give Edward G. Robinson a chance to go straight.

The movies' "Little Caesar" will drop his big, black cigar and remove the bulging "heater" from his pocket when he narrates "Cops and Robbers," on the "Du Pont Show of the Week," Sunday, 10:00-11:00 p. m. on NBC-TV.

"I guess it's a switch," he commented whimsically. "Here's a show about criminals . . . and I'm not one of them."

"Cops and Robbers" will trace crime and law enforcement in the United States all the way back to the day the Mayflower docked. Produced by the distinguished "Project 20" team, the telecast is designed to illustrate that organized crime has developed into a constant threat to all Americans.

"Gangs are nothing new," commented the actor. "Back in the 1800s, there were criminal mobs with names like 'The Hudson Dusters' and 'The Dead Rabbits.' They may sound colorful, but they were made up of the dregs of humanity."

Robinson, whose interest in crime is academic but strong, examined the facts gathered by Phil Reisman, who wrote "Cops and Robbers."

"Before he started the script, Reisman went to the Justice Department and the FBI for statistics," said Robinson. "They're terrifying. Today, crime is one of our biggest industries. Illegal gambling alone takes in more money than General Motors, U. S. Steel and Ford combined—a staggering $57 billion a year."

When he's not pursuing a life of crime, for the benefit of movie and TV cameras, Robinson can most often be found at one of Hollywood's several fine art galleries. He ranks among the world's great authorities on French impressionist painting.

Slim Pickens Naive At Contract Time

Slim Pickens, an actor whom you see in many TV shows such as "Tall Man" and "Lawman" and in numerous movies, was quite naive when he was offered his first screen test by Warner Brothers.

"What does it cost me?" was his answer.

When he was told, "Nothing," his reply was "Okay, let's do it."

That was in 1950 and he has done 50 films since.

MacMurray Stars In Stockbreeding

Fred MacMurray, star of "My Three Sons" and owner of the Twin Valley Ranch at Healdsburg, Calif., recently added to his laurels as a leading Aberdeen-Angus stockbreeder.

His 1961 Cow Palace grand champion bull, Pyros Monarch of TVR, was shown and sold for $5,500—the second highest selling bull—at Denver's National Western Stock Show after taking first prize in the junior yearling class.

Joint purchasers were Oklahoma State University and Angus Valley at Tulsa, one of the older Angus establishments in the country.
